Dear Sir:

I, David M. LaPrairie, make the following declaration from my personal knowledge and under the penalty of perjury.

1. I am a citizen of the United States of America.
2. I am a patent attorney, Registration No. 46,295, at Howard & Howard Attorneys, P.C. of Bloomfield Hills, MI.
3. I represent Valeo Systemes Thermiques, a corporation, (hereinafter "Valeo") of La Verriere, France.
4. François Boumaza (hereinafter "Mr. Boumaza") was employed by Valeo to invent new technology for Valeo, including the subject matter of this application (U.S. Application No. 10/588,119).

5. On February 17, 2005, an International Application was filed listing inventors Jean-Louis Lanard, Jean-Nicolas Guyomard, and Mr. Boumaza. This International Application is International Application No. PCT/FR2005/000375 with a priority date of February 17, 2004.

6. A nonprovisional application was filed with the United States Patent and Trademark Office on August 1, 2006. This application is Application No. 10/588,119. An Oath or Declaration of the inventors was not filed at the time of filing in the U.S.

7. Mr. Boumaza resigned from Valeo in 2006.

8. In and throughout December 2006 and January 2007, Valeo followed up with Mr. Boumaza on more than one occasion to obtain his signature on a combined Declaration/Power of Attorney. However, Mr. Boumaza would not and did not execute the Declaration/Power of Attorney.

9. On August 13, 2007, I prepared a priority letter to be sent to Mr. Boumaza. This letter explained to Mr. Boumaza his interest in signing the Declaration/Power of Attorney, and requested that Mr. Boumaza review the nonprovisional application and sign the Declaration/Power of Attorney with the nonprovisional application declaring that he was an inventor. In this letter, I supplied Mr. Boumaza with all of my contact information (address, email, and phone) in the event he had any questions (see Exhibit A).

10. On August 13, 2007, the priority letter and another copy of the entire nonprovisional application (in both English and French languages), along with a Declaration/Power of Attorney, and a prepaid return envelope, were forwarded via Federal Express (FedEx) by my assistant, Sandra Barry, to Mr. Boumaza's last known address at the time (Mr. Boumaza's home address) at 19 Rue Sextius Michel 75015 Paris, France (see Exhibit B). FedEx was used because this address was an international address.

11. From August 16, 2007 through August 20, 2007, FedEx attempted three deliveries of the priority letter to Mr. Boumaza's home address. However, in each of these attempts, FedEx noted that Mr. Boumaza was not available to sign for the certified letter (nor was anyone else) (see Exhibit C). A notice of subsequent delivery attempts was left at Mr. Boumaza's home address each time an attempt was made (along with instructions on how Mr. Boumaza could arrange for personal pick-up of the priority letter).

12. On August 20, 2007, after receiving the third delivery exception from FedEx, a hold was placed on the priority letter to allow Mr. Boumaza additional time (typically at least 5 days) to physically pick-up the priority letter at the closest FedEx location, at 50 Rue Ardoin, 93400 Saint-Ouen, France, which is located approximately 6 miles from Mr. Boumaza's home address.

13. From August 20, 2007 through August 31, 2007, FedEx held the priority letter at the closest FedEx location to allow Mr. Boumaza to physically pick-up the letter (Exhibit C).

14. From September 3, 2007 through September 5, 2007, FedEx attempted three additional deliveries of the priority letter to Mr. Boumaza's last known address. At some point during this period, FedEx discovered that Mr. Boumaza must have moved to a new address (Exhibit C).

15. On September 6, 2007, FedEx found Mr. Boumaza's new address, near Le Mesnil-Amelot, France; however, Mr. Boumaza was again not available to sign for the priority letter (nor was anyone else). A notice was left at Mr. Boumaza's new address of the delivery attempt along with instructions on how Mr. Boumaza could arrange for personal pick-up of the priority letter (Exhibit C).

16. From September 6, 2007 through September 13, 2007, FedEx held the priority letter at the FedEx location in Le Mesnil-Amelot, France to allow Mr. Boumaza to physically pick-up the letter (Exhibit C).

17. On September 14, 2007, FedEx made a seventh delivery attempt to Mr. Boumaza's new address near Le Mesnil-Amelot, France, at which time FedEx found Mr. Boumaza and Mr. Boumaza received and signed for the priority letter (see Exhibits C and D).

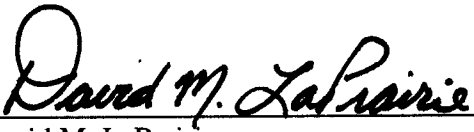

18. On September 26, 2007, my office contacted FedEx to determine the actual address where the priority letter was ultimately delivered and signed for by Mr. Boumaza. The primary purpose of this inquiry was to provide the most up-to-date address for Mr. Boumaza to the USPTO. This address was 6AL Des Haras 77185, Lognes, France.

19. Mr. Boumaza still has not executed the Declaration/Power of Attorney for Valeo, and has not contacted Valeo or myself to further discuss this matter to date.

20. The remaining two joint inventors, Jean-Louis Lanard and Jean-Nicolas Guyomard, have signed the Declaration/Power of Attorney.

21. I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information are believed to be true, and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful and false statements and the like are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or patent issued thereon.

Monsieur,

It is a pleasure to make your acquaintance. Please allow me to introduce myself. My name is David LAPRAIRIE and I am a patent attorney in the United States working on behalf of Valeo Systemes Thermiques (Valeo). I have been asked by Valeo to communicate with you.

Please forgive the fact that this letter is in English. Unfortunately, I am unable to effectively communicate in the French language, and I understand from Valeo that you may be able to communicate in the English language. I recognize that this is inconvenient for you and humbly appreciate your understanding in this regard.

On December 22, 2006, two documents were sent to you for the patent application entitled "STRUCTURE COMPOSITE EN METAL ET MATIERE PLASTIQUE, EN PARTICULIER POUR UNE FACE AVANT DE VEHICULE AUTOMOBILE" (additional copies of this application in both the French and English languages are attached for your convenience). The first document was an Assignment and the second document was a Declaration/Power of Attorney (DEC/POA). While Valeo certainly appreciates your attention to signature of the Assignment, my letter today specifically addresses the second document, the DEC/POA because timing is now urgent.

By reply email to Gwenaelle LAVAREC-DRAPEAU, you asked...what is your interest in signing the documents? In relation to the DEC/POA, this document accomplishes many things. Importantly, the DEC/POA identifies and acknowledges that you are an inventor. Therefore, because along with Jean-Louis LANARD and Jean-Nicolas GUY-OMARD, you invented this concept, it is in your best interest to sign the document and put your name next to the fact that you are indeed an inventor.

As indicated above, the DEC/POA is the most critical. For your convenience we are providing another copy of a Declaration and a return envelope with postage prepaid. We apologize for the short timing, but we must have your signed DEC/POA returned no later than August 22, 2007. Otherwise, the patent application for your invention may go abandoned.

We appreciate your cooperation in this matter. Please contact me in the United States at (248) 723-0442 or at dml@h2law.com if you have any questions.

Again, we apologize for all of this inconvenience to you.

Yours very truly,
Howard & Howard Attorneys PC
